

This workshop is designed for school leaders who aspire to have a paradigm shift in leadership and management through instilling entrepreneurial spirit, especially in this very time of versatile social and educational innovation. During the workshop, three key questions pertaining to entrepreneurial spirit will be addressed:

1. What are the possible challenges faced by school leaders when they try to instill “entrepreneurial spirit” in their school leadership and administration?
2. What are some international authentic cases of instilling entrepreneurial spirit, creating impacts for beneficiaries?
3. How could the establishment of an “Edupreneurial Committee” cultivate an entrepreneurial spirit in schools, uplift teachers’ competence and school capacities and tap on the edge of their current outstanding achievement?

Leading Schools with Innovative Culture:

Instilling entrepreneurial spirit by establishing an “Edupreneurial Committee” to uplift teachers’ competence and school development

24 March 2021 14:00-17:00

Target Participants:

Representatives of School Sponsoring Bodies (SSB), School Board Members, School Supervisors, School Founders, Principals, Vice-principals, Assistant Principals and Management Teams in Kindergartens, Primary and Secondary Schools and professional organisations

Medium of Instruction:

Cantonese (supplemented with English)

Mode: Online via Zoom

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Dr Vincent Wong is a Senior Lecturer and the Specialism Coordinator of MEd Educational Administration & Management Strand in the Faculty of Education, the University of Hong Kong. Dr Wong is an international expert in innovative, administrative and educational leadership. He has been advising minister-level and very senior government officials in Finland, Australia, Japan, Korea, Russia and China to instill entrepreneurial spirit into their public services and educational public services, with his appointment as Chairperson (RC), Eastern Regional Organisational for Public Administration [UN-affiliated organisation], Government Special Researcher, International Expert, Visiting Professor for Business Schools & Policy Schools, and other Presidentship. In Hong Kong, Dr Wong has been appointed by the Secretary for Education as a Steering Committee member on the Promotion of VPET and QF, in addition to his other appointments serving on the “Vetting Committee on Sabbatical Leave Scheme for Professional Development of Teachers and Principals and “Textbook Review Committee”. Envisioning to build better school leadership capacity, Dr Wong has been networking with members of Executive Council, Legislative Council, the Government, prestigious entrepreneurs and renowned social entrepreneurs to advocate instilling entrepreneurial spirit into school leadership culture in an incremental approach.

